Synopsis

Start the school year right with this irresistible poster template that prompts children to tell about themselves in words and pictures. Young learners will have blast tooting their own horns by filling in favorite animals, foods, colors, books, writing a self portrait, and more. A great way to build self-esteem, motivate reluctant writers, and help kids get acquainted! For use with Grades K-2.

Customer Reviews

I have been using these All About Me posters for years! I just purchased a new set to get ready for the next school year. It comes with a teacher's guide and a sample, but I am a creature of habit and use them the same way every year. I teach fourth grade, and I have a corner of the classroom dedicated as a Student Corner. This is where the kids can post things they are proud of, either school-related or not. I have an area for this poster, with a bulletin board border around it. I start the year off with a poster about myself on there. It is up there for Meet the Teacher, as well as the first week of school. The kids love reading it and learning more about their teacher! Towards the end of the first week of school, I assign a student to be the first featured student of the year. I give them the poster to take home, and they have several days to complete it and bring it back to school. Then their poster takes the place of mine as the student feature. Then again, in another week or so, I assign another student to take a blank poster home, and the cycle repeats until every student has had a chance to fill out a poster and be the featured student. When their poster comes down, I give it to them to take home. It is always exciting when a new poster goes up. I usually have a crowd of students standing there reading it, learning more about their classmate. The featured classmate feels special for that week, as he/she usually gets comments from the other kids or questions. I love the open-ended questions on this. While some are straight-forward like what grade they are in and when their birthday is, questions like "I am a star because....." or "I show others I care by...."
